Message from Karl

Friday 24th February witnessed the first anniversary of Russia's invasion of Ukraine. Despite the raft of economic sanctions imposed on Putin's regime and its supporters, the supplies of weapons to the Ukrainian armed forces, the bravery and tenacity of its soldiers and the remarkable courage of those Russians who have dared to defy the Kremlin's narrative, our news still brings us almost daily scenes of suffering from that country. Peace, sadly, still seems a long way off.

Now, to talk of peace begs the question of what we actually mean by it. Throughout the Bible, we see God's passion for peace reflected time and again, but true shalom does not only mean the absence of fighting and bloodshed, although that would be a good beginning! It also means actively forging new bonds across those things which readily divide us, so that we might learn to see the humanity in those whose experiences and outlooks are different to ours. It is when we see people as just an abstract 'other' and reduce them to problems to be 'fixed', then too little room for empathy and understanding is left and the danger that conflict will emerge is great.

So, seeking peace and pursuing it, as the Psalmist puts it, involves risk because it hinges on the possibility of real relationship, and an enlarged vision of what it means to bear the image of God. When Jesus tells his frightened disciples not to be afraid, and offers them peace, he is inviting them to embrace the life of the Kingdom of God and thus to be open to unexpected relationships and to see the value in God's eyes of all people, not just those who already looked and sounded like them. Similarly, today, God calls us to have the courage to seek Christ in those we find difficult, or even threatening, and it goes without saying that this is not an easy business.

I imagine that is why Jesus also goes to great lengths to speak of the comfort and strength which comes from the Holy Spirit, a theme also embraced by Paul in his letters to the early churches. We cannot live up to this calling to embody real peace in our own strength, not least because it means challenging the injustice of any and all attempts to diminish and deny the human dignity of others, and to take seriously the effects of a very human but deeply destructive tendency to seek out scapegoats when things go wrong. We need the Holy Spirit as our compass and guide.

Thus, as we reflect on the terrible situation in Ukraine and all those other parts of the world where war rages and people suffer, it is important both to pray for peace, but also to recognise that peace begins with us in everyday life. How we treat others, spend our money, use our votes and channel our energies does make a difference in our increasingly fractured and divided world. As we journey through Lent, we are confronted with the darker side not just of humanity as a whole, but ourselves in particular. Yet, we also know that it is through the cross and resurrection of Jesus Christ that we can trust that the evils of war, unchecked anger, festering hatred and cycles of distrust and violence will not get the last word.

So, may we commit ourselves anew to be people of peace in all that means.

Every blessing, Karl

Spotlight's Safeguarding Space

The Circuit's Foundation Safeguarding Training took place in February. Sue, Tina, John and I were encouraged to consider that 'The Church is a unique place where all are welcomed.' Also, we were reminded that safeguarding is everyone's responsibility. If you are concerned about something that doesn't look, sound or feel right then do let me know. Thank you.

Church Family News

Please pray for Rosemarie Lester who has been diagnosed with breast cancer. She started a 6-months schedule of chemotherapy and immunotherapy on Friday 10th February, to be potentially followed by surgery and radiotherapy. She would appreciate our prayers, not only for herself but for Nigel and CN as they all embark upon a scenario that is all too familiar to their family.

For the time being, Sarah Moore will take over the running of the Prayer Web.

Jean Bedford is currently receiving respite care at Speirs House following several falls over the last few weeks. We send her our love and prayers especially as she now has Covid too. She would welcome visitors once she is out of isolation.

We are very sad to report that Pam Vincent died peacefully on Tuesday morning, 21st February. We send love and prayers to Alan, his son Andy and daughter Nicky, and to all their family.

Pastoral Visitors renamed ...

The pastoral element of church life is such an important aspect of what we do, and the Pastoral team frequently reflect on all the ways we support each other, and those connected with Church.

Following a recent discussion about the Pastoral role, it was felt that visiting was only one aspect of what we do. Visits were often linked with the distribution of Spotlight, but as this is now mostly sent online, contact can be through other means – emails, calls, Text / WhatsApp messages, chats over coffee etc. It was therefore agreed that we would prefer to use the title of ... Pastoral Friends.

We have 13 Pastoral Friends, each of whom keep in touch with a number of people in whichever way they prefer. And we are always happy to visit – for a chat on the doorstep, or over a cuppa 😊. If you feel this is a role you would be able to help with, I would be happy to talk to you about it.

Sue Abell, Pastoral Secretary

Reverend Donald Finnan

When the Rev. Donald Finnan died last June, he left instructions that any money collected after his memorial service should be added to a bequest he wanted to make to Rianna's Fund, a charity in Southern India supporting and educating children of poor Tamil communities.

Donald served as a missionary, pastor and teacher in the desperately poor rural area of Tirunelveli, in Southern India, for 5 years from the late 1950s, learning the Tamil language and living the humble and frugal existence of the people he served. In spite of terrible hardship and tragedy (his infant daughter died from disease while they were there), India remained an essential part of his heart and his mind. He yearned to return there and managed to do this at least once in later life. Donald spoke of having his ashes returned there but eventually came to realise that this would pose many difficulties, and instead identified a quiet spot in his equally beloved Lake District, near Hartside Pass and not far from where his wife Barbara's ashes lie. His stepson Simon duly scattered them there in October.

Meanwhile, Rianna's fund was unfortunately just winding up last Summer, and we had to find an alternative recipient for the funds collected in Donald's memory. Bonni-Belle Pickard, who was a Minister in this circuit until fairly recently, maintains links with a similar region of India and had spoken to Donald about the area on several occasions. She offered to take the funds on her next trip to India, to be used by the Bethania Foundation, specifically at the Grace Home in Nagercoil, a Christian organisation as near as we can identify to where Donald actually was. She personally knows people who work there, and she set off on Wednesday February 22nd taking with her the magnificent sum of £1740 to be used to feed, clothe and educate the poorest children in the region. Donald would be absolutely thrilled to know that his legacy lives on in this way, and I'm sure he would like to thank everyone for their generosity in enabling this to happen.

I very much hope to get a report from Bonni-Belle when she returns, giving details about exactly how this money is to be spent. This is a happy outcome, remembering a remarkable man who lost so much during his life but gave everything he had in the service of his congregations, his friends and his God.

MEDICAL LIFELINES UKRAINE
CONVOY OF HOPE

'As winter bites and Russian aggression targets the Ukrainian population with ever greater privations and misery, it is more important than ever to extend a hand of friendship and practical support to the innocent civilians who are victims of these callous and relentless acts.

Medical Lifelines Ukraine has so far delivered 16 aid-filled ambulances to war-torn areas of Ukraine since Russia's invasion on February 24th last year. The invasion has destroyed clinics and diverted medics and supplies to the front line. But the civilian need for humanitarian support and medical aid is massive. We use our ambulances to focus on 3 key objectives:

1. Ambulances for hospitals.

Hospitals near the front line have lost ambulances either due to enemy action or to supporting Ukraine's military forces. They urgently need replacement vehicles to provide the medical support that their civilian populations desperately need.

2. Community transport hubs.

Vulnerable people in small communities in rural areas of Ukraine are hard to reach so their medical needs are often unmet. Our vehicles enable the co-ordination and delivery of life-saving humanitarian aid and medical support.

3. Delivering Aid

Our ambulances arrive in Ukraine filled to the brim with medical and practical articles including dressings and medical tools, PPE, defibrillators, generators, blankets, clothes and toys for displaced people who have lost everything.

We are identifying specific hospitals and special projects where our donated ambulances can make a real difference as well as the exact type of vehicles that will do the best possible job for them. With this information we are tracking down the right vehicles to buy and will make purchases as soon as we find the right match.

What you can do

Each ambulance costs around £15,000 to buy, recondition and deliver to Ukraine so the biggest thing you can do is to help support our fundraising, either by direct donations to one of our charity partners in the UK, or by supporting our fundraising activities. We are also very happy to hear from possible drivers... do get in touch!

Please contact us at ambulance2ukraine@gmail.com to support us or ask questions.

Our UK fundraising partner is Harrop HR Missions Ltd Charity number 1117155 and we have partner groups in the US and elsewhere to ensure that donations receive the most favourable possible tax treatment.

Please follow the link <https://www.gofundme.com/f/convoy23>

In the immediate term, we hope to deliver a convoy of at least 6 ambulances to support the people of Ukraine in their struggle to survive, at the beginning of March.

Please can you help us equip these vehicles with items such as over-the-counter medicines, sanitary products, baby food and milk powder, nappies, new socks and underwear, gloves, hats and torches.

PLEASE NOTE: no outdoor clothing required thank you as we have no more room.'

If you can bring your donations/contributions to Church by Wednesday 1st March, we will make sure they reach the co-ordinator in Putney and you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you have made a difference.

Please act NOW while it is in your mind. Time is short.

With sincere thanks from everyone who has links to this devastated country.

Hi New Malden Methodist Church. Thanks to people like you who donated to our Shoe Appeal for Christmas 2022, every child in our care received a brand new pair of shoes, showing them they have our lasting love and support.

Thousands of Stand by Me children around the world were delighted to receive a brand new pair of shoes, many of them for the first time ever. Thanks to you, worn out shoes have been replaced with comfortable shoes that fit their growing feet. Smiles were seen from Myanmar to Kenya to Colombia, and we wanted to share with you the words of just some of our kids who expressed their joy and gratitude:

"I am very happy to get this amazing shoe. I start wearing them to church every Sunday. I praise the Lord for these amazing shoes. I am also very happy because I get to choose by myself at the store. Thank you very much for this beautiful shoe. May God Bless You."

Andrew, Myanmar

"I want to thank you for this beautiful and useful gift. This Christmas was my first at Denisa Centre and I was overwhelmed with joy that you thought of the children in our centre. I was very happy to receive the shoes from you!" Maria (pictured right), Romania

Your support has given our children the dignity and security they deserve. Together, we have been able to provide our kids with protection from disease and infection.

Thank you for showing our children they are loved and cared for every step of the way!

The Wesley Wanderers Walking Group

This group was set up nearly twenty years ago by Douglas Reed and friends of Surbiton Hill Methodist Church.

Sadly Doug and two of those friends have died but Peter Robson, an original leader, still leads the walks. They take place in the beautiful Surrey countryside with the exception of the London walk in February and maybe a walk along the River Thames towpath one month, but not always.

The walks alternate between the last Tuesday of the month and the last Thursday of the following month. This pattern is kept throughout the year.

The walks follow a circular pattern slightly longer in the morning always starting at 10.30am, a pub lunch and then a shorter walk back to the car park.

I have Peter's permission to put this notice in Spotlight and if you would like further information please talk to me. Stella Chattle.

The wife of Douglas Reed, Rachel, has written new words to an old hymn which she wanted to share.

My Dream

Dream of a world with no need for anxiety,
A world of full employment where all can pay their bills;
Inspire us, Lord, to make it a reality –
Surely we can fix our society's ills?
We thank you, Lord, for eyes and hands and voices,
Make us proactive, Lord, for this must not go on.

Dream of a world without any poverty,
A healthy happy world where everyone gets fed;
Inspire us, Lord, to make it a reality –
We can make it happen, if we share our bread;
We thank you, Lord, for food and drink and money,
So make us gen-rous, Lord, for this must not go on.

Dream of a world with no inequality,
Life out there is messy, and often brutal too;
Inspire us, Lord, to make it a reality – so
Speak to us, please! For we don't know what we do;
We who have plenty, may long to give it all away –
But would that fix the problems? No, the world needs You.

Dream of a world with no human misery,
A world of compassion, where no-one howls with pain;
Inspire us, Lord, to make it a reality – yes,
We'll give the broken hope and watch them smile again;
We thank you, Lord, for empathy and kindness,
With hands outstretched, we'll seek to spread Your name.

Dream of a world where no-one is illiterate,
A world free of full ignorance, where all can write and read;
Inspire us, Lord, to make it a reality – yes,
We could mend that problem, we could meet that need;
We thank you, Lord, for books and pens and teachers,
But we must play our part, for this can not go on.

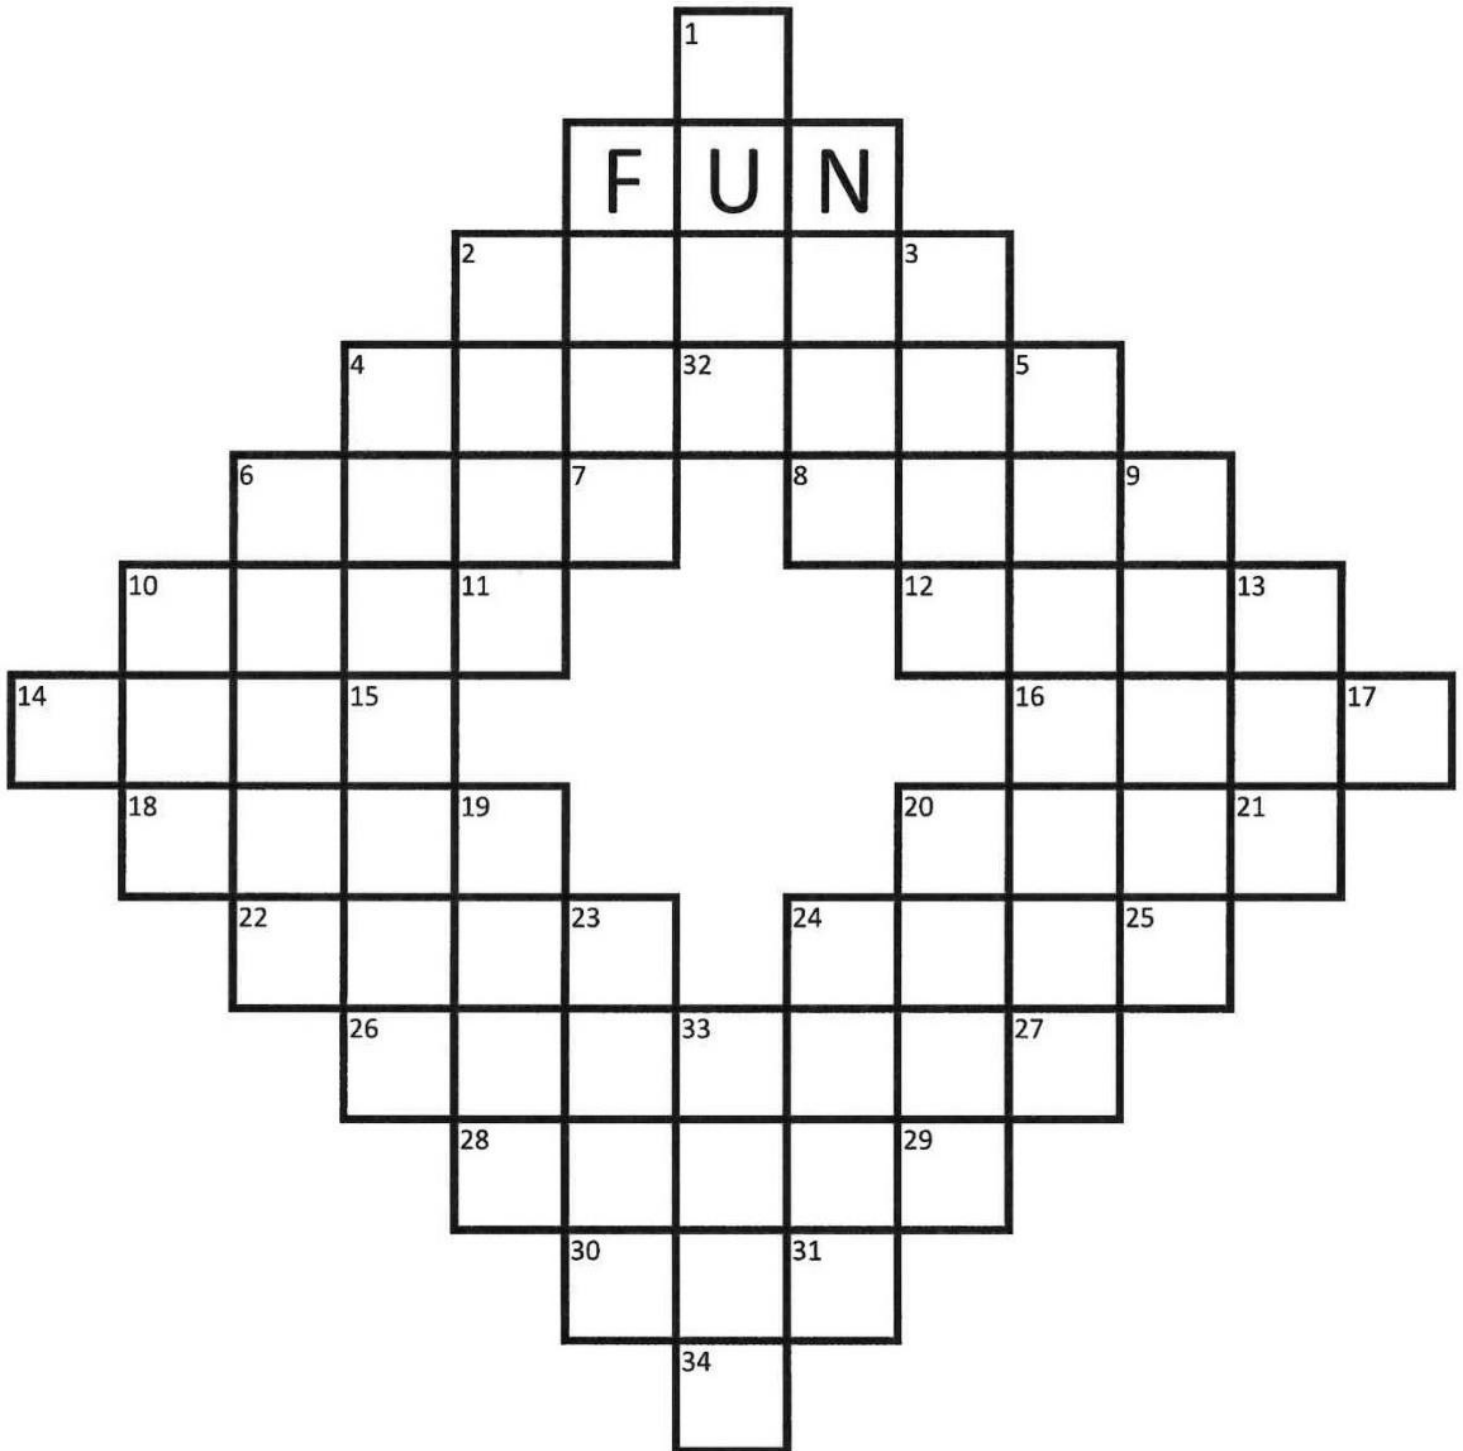

Dream of a world where everybody knows our God,
A world full of believers, who all may sense His love;
Inspire us, Lord, to make it a reality –
We could make a diff'rence with Your help from above.
We thank you, Lord, for hymns and prayers and preachers,
With hands held high, we'll praise Your holy name.
